Introducing Career Spa, LLC
A Refreshing Approach to Career Transition

Atlanta, GA – Tom Darrow, founder of the recruiting consulting firm Talent Connections which made the Inc. 500 list of the fastest growing private companies in the U.S. in 2007 and 2008, has launched Career Spa, LLC, a new concept in the approach to career transition. Darrow has teamed with nationally recognized recruiting and career transition experts to create a current, comprehensive and cost effective model for career transition services that is long overdue. Designed to benefit both organizations and individuals, Career Spa has renovated and re-energized the approach to career transition programs. The end result is a program that is more effective for the participant and more affordable than the existing outdated models.

“Most current outplacement models offer a one size fits all, cookie-cutter approach that hasn’t been updated for years,” said Tom Darrow, Founder and Principal of Career Spa. “In addition, current pricing models are a large expense for organizations as well as cost-prohibitive for individuals. This new model provides best practices, one-on-one coaching, encouragement and accountability to individuals affected by corporate downsizing.”

Career Spa’s extended and enhanced 12-week program has been developed by nationally recognized recruiting and career transition experts who understand the challenges facing individuals in transition and can teach the “success practices” to be mastered for an effective job search. Career Spa has teamed with Georgia State University and the University of Georgia, leading centers of higher education, to provide clients with access to state-of-the-art classroom space for conducting workshops. Classrooms are conveniently located in Buckhead and Perimeter.
